

The Studio T Story

Jodi Brown, the owner of Studio T Furniture, has always had a passion for shopping and furniture. Why not combine two things I love?!

When living in Southern California, I did my furniture shopping at a great store in Newport Beach called Urbanism that sold furniture at 30-50% off retail prices. Urbanism started over ten years ago, and has grown by word-of-mouth to a huge warehouse full of floor samples and a great variety of vendors and styles. I did a ton of furniture shopping at Urbanism, and was always thrilled with the great quality and low prices.

When I moved to Colorado over two years ago, the first thing that jumped out was the lack of a similar store in the Denver area. Who wants to pay retail prices when you can get the same great quality and design at a deep discount?! So, I went to the owner of Urbanism and convinced her that Denver would love the concept of low priced quality furniture and Studio T was born! I love what I do and enjoy helping my clients find the perfect piece for their homes!

Studio T Furniture may be an "anti-retail" concept, but I think you will be delighted with the choices and savings!
